

International faculty

Erwin Officiers, Antwerp
Hidemi Miyazaki, Tokyo
Simon Lloyd, Manchester, UK
Stefan Plontke, Halle, Germany

The Copenhagen Basic and Advanced Ear Surgery and Implant Course 2017

Unique 3-D Virtual and wet temporal bone dissection
4 - 7. September 2017, Copenhagen, Denmark

Further information and booking: www.copenhagenotology.dk

Copenhagen Otology & Neurotology

It is a great pleasure to announce The Copenhagen Basic and Advanced Ear Surgery and Implant Course 2017, with a faculty and participants from all over the world.

The course will consist of lectures, unique virtual 3-D dissection and wet temporal bone dissections on fresh frozen whole heads.

Wet dissection will include option to perform hands-on endoscopy, tuboplasty, bone anchored hearing aid implantation and cochlear implantation.

The course is suitable for ENT specialists pursuing surgical training in basic and advanced otology and neurotology.

With kindest regards, Per Caye-Thomasen, course director

Department of Oto-rhino-laryngology, Head and Neck Surgery, and Audiology, Copenhagen University Hospital Rigshospitalet

Rigshospitalet

The course fee is 10.400 DDK (1400 Euro), which includes lectures, dissection manual, virtual 3-D temporal bone drilling, a fresh frozen whole cadaver head (two ears) for wet TB dissection, coffee breaks and lunches, buffet in association with the honorary lecture Tuesday evening, and course dinner Wednesday evening.